

CVCC JOB SEEKERS

HELPFUL WEBSITES

Managing career transitions will be a lifelong activity. Some helpful resources include:

www.jobhuntersbible.com The official online job search resource hosted by Dick Boiles, author of “What Color is Your Parachute” www.susanireland.com Free resume samples and advice.

www.careeroverview.com Career information and job search guide (check out career planning link).

<http://jobstar.org/tools/career/spec-car.php> These sites are packed with information about planning your career. What kind of training or education is required? What can you earn? What kind of environment will you work in? What's hot? What's not? Some sites include personal stories from folks working in the field: how did they move (or stumble) into their current work situation? What advice would they give newcomers?

www.quintcareers.com More than 3,500 pages of free college, career, and job-search content to empower your success in life. Use the directory or search page to find what you need.

<http://www.acinet.org/acinet/> Provides state labor market information and resources, including links to education, cultural, and recreation resources.

<http://www.bls.gov/oco> U. S. Department of Labor’s Occupational Outlook Handbook. Also includes the Career Guide to Industries, which tells you about dozens of occupations by industry, training and advancement, earnings, expected job prospects, and working conditions.

<http://www.bls.gov/emp/#outlook> The Employment Projections Program develops information about the labor market for the Nation as a whole for 10 years in the future.

<http://lmi.state.oh.us> Labor market projections are available for industry employment, occupational employment and labor force size. Projected annual job openings by occupation include employment growth, net replacement needs, training levels and wage information.

<http://www.careervoyages.gov> The U.S. Departments of Labor and Education have collaborated to provide information on in-demand occupations along with the skills and education needed to attain those jobs.

<http://www.worldwidelearn.com> Helps you find the on-line class, career training, education resource, campus program, or degree program you need to achieve your professional goals.

<http://www.rileyguide.com/trends.html> The Riley Guide introduces you to the online job search, listing many online sites and services that are useful for your job search. The Riley Guide helps answer questions such as: Where Is My Job Going? Is it this job or is this a dying occupation? Is the industry changing, is it changing everywhere, or is it just moving out of my area?

www.Ohiomeansjobs.com The website for Ohio jobseekers that allows you to search all electronic job opportunities which include Ohio employers, national commercial job boards and niche industries.

<http://wheretofindhelp.org> Northeast Ohio resource directory for job seekers.

<http://www.northcoast99.com> North Coast 99 - Contains all of the job openings for North Coast 99 companies - click on the "North Coast Career Center" panel at the bottom and it will take you to the job openings web page

Health Careers

www.explorehealthcareers.org Provides years of education/salary calculator

www.healthy-careers.org Has health care career inventory and health care careers video

IT Careers

<http://www.nortech.org/Docs/NEO%20IT%20Report%20FINAL.pdf> NEO IT workforce report (2008)

Green Careers

<http://www.greencareercentral.com> Complete online center for people who want to switch to a green career or find a green job

<http://globalgreencareers.com> Has an extensive collection of articles and resources on green careers.