Preston Kruty

Nardonia Hills District

Preston Kruty is a senior at Nardonia High School and is enrolled in CVCC's Programming & Software Development (PSD) program instructed by Ms. Little. Preston chose this program because he really enjoys programming and activities that have to do with computers and technology. Preston expressed, "I thought it'd be a great fit because I believed I had an itch that needed to be scratched and that itch being the need to learn more about technology." His favorite part of Programming & Software Development program is collaborating with other students. The most challenging part of the program was taking learning into his own hands, however once he got the hang of it, it came more natural for him. Preston recently competed in the Business Professionals of America State Competition last month. He greatly appreciates the community and teamwork aspect at CVCC; not only was the PSD program good in the areas of learning and getting a job, but also by teaching Preston how to work with others more constructively.

Outside of academics, Preston works at Sohar's All Season Mower Service, Inc. as an IT Specialist where he regularly utilizes the skills learned at CVCC. In his free time, Preston enjoys making music, hanging out with friends, and playing video games. In terms of future endeavors, Preston plans on eventually seeking higher education; however, as for right now, he plans on continuing to work at his current job, save some money and take online classes. Preston hopes to become a software engineer one day. Keep up the great work!
